Club website user ID info

Each Club member has a user ID on our website. You see your user ID information after you log in. If you're a Club member and you don't have a user ID, please contact the webmaster (webmaster at ottawaoutdoorclub.ca).

Your user ID lets you access the Club discussion forums (bulletin board). Click on the Forums ^[1] button that is near the top right of all but the home and schedule pages; this button is visible only when you are logged in.

We make very limited use of our forums. Nearly all discussions are carried on via our Facebook group. (If you're on Facebook, we invite you to join our Facebook group ^[2].) As we approach the AGM, which is usually in October of every year, you can use the forums to discuss possible amendments to the Club's constitution and bylaws ^[3].

Please note that your user ID information page shows Member since and a duration. This is how long you've had a user ID on our website; it's not how long you've been a member of the OOC.
